Day 1

Welcome to Calgary

Energetic, kind and engaging – we'd like to warmly welcome you to our city. We're eager to share the people and places that make our city unique, and help you uncover and share the best stories. Sure, we're on the doorstep of the iconic Canadian Rockies and we kick up our heels at the Stampede and numerous festivals every summer, but there's so much more to Calgary.

Great neighbourhoods. Music. BBQ. Bikes. Exhibits. Parks. Breweries. Warm and welcoming people.

Whether you've been to Calgary many times before or are still figuring out how to pronounce it, we welcome you.

(It's pronounced Cal-gree, for the record).

Brunch at the historic King Eddy

The King Eddy – affectionately known as “The Eddy” by longtime Calgarians – is a legendary blues club carving a new legacy for Calgary’s thriving music scene. The National Music Centre restored the heritage building brick by brick to house a live music hub steeped in 100 years of local history. So swing by, grab a drink at the brand-new bar and restaurant, and catch the very best of Canadian and touring-out-of-town musical talent.

King Edward Hotel

438 9 Avenue Southeast, Calgary, Alberta, CA, T2G

Feel the music at Studio Bell, Home of the National Music Centre

Explore five floors of exhibitions that tell the story of music in Canada, celebrate music icons in the Canadian Halls of Fame, rock out with our interactive instrument installations and sing along in our sound booths. Make sure to check out the restored King Eddy Hotel and take a peek at the famed Rolling Stones Mobile Studio. Music surges through ones soul while exploring Calgary's Canadian Music embassy, the first of it's kind in Canada. The building's architecture is said to be imagined as a living instrument, making every single element of Studio Bell embody all things music.

Explore some daytime stops on Calgary's Music Mile

Running from the historic neighbourhood of Inglewood to Studio Bell, Home of the National Music Centre in the East Village is Calgary's Music Mile. The stretch is home to an eclectic group of venues that host a variety of genres, where live music can be heard any day of the week!

Fort Calgary Burnswest Theatre

Fort Calgary is home to the Burnswest Theatre, the original 1875 Mountie fort that gave rise to Calgary. The early Mounties used to have a band that entertained people at the Fort, and today that community spirit is kept alive as the birthplace of music and entertainment in Calgary as we know it.

Gravity Espresso and Wine Bar

Hosting live music on Friday and Saturday nights, Gravity Espresso and Wine Bar transforms itself into an intimate venue that is the perfect place to sit back, relax, and discover local performers. Grab a glass of wine or a pint of beer and check out singer songwriters on Thursday nights.

Recordland

Home to Canada's largest selection of vinyl and CDs, Recordland has been a staple in Inglewood for 30 years. Search the stacks for classic vinyl and new releases that won't find anywhere else.

Dinner at The Nash

Michael Noble's The Nash and Off Cut Bar is situated in Inglewood's historic National Hotel, which was built in 1907. Designed by Sarah Ward of Sarah Ward Interiors, the style of the restaurant honors the history of the building and the neighborhood. Whether you stop by for lunch, dinner or weekend brunch, you can expect to find everything from house made burgers to rotisserie features to seafood on the constantly rotating menu. The Off Cut Bar is attached to The Nash, and has a different menu and decor from the restaurant. The bar offers a range of small and sharing plates, its own charcuterie and several different cocktails, craft beers, small batch bourbons, whiskeys and other spirits.

Brunch at the Palomino Smokehouse

Barbecue season never ends at The Palomino! Downtown Calgary's favourite smokehouse offers a tantalizing menu of bountiful favourites, huge selection of beer, wonderfully unique patio, and a host of great special events! The showroom downstairs is Calgary's most unique live music venue and features a wide variety of genres from local and international acts throughout the entire week. The Palomino is proud to offer an authentic and distinctive Western experience that is second to none.

Check out the seasons festival lineup

Winter festivals like the Calgary Folk Music Festival's Blockheater warm up the Canadian winter, and the summer is an endless patio party, with SLED island music festival, the Calgary Folk Music Festival and more to keep visitors dancing. Canada's largest music festival is found at the Calgary Stampede, where incredible acts set up for 10 days each July.

Keep an eye out for any live music that could be going on any time of day!

Explore 17th Ave's record shops

17th Ave SW is the centre of Calgary's nightlife and the ultimate place to see and be seen. Grab a pint at National on 17th, shop local with a huge collection of boutique retailers, watch some European football at the Ship and Anchor, and be sure to follow 17th Avenue to Cowboys Dance Hall for live concerts and dance party atmosphere that will get you dancing in no time. With hot restaurants and cool boutiques, "17th" as the locals call it, is where Calgary comes to play.

Sloth Records

Calling 17th Ave home since 2009, Sloth Records prides itself on offering something unique for everyone. Any music lover can find what they're looking for here, from their large selection of concert tickets, band tees, books, cassettes, turntables and DJ equipment.

Blackbyrd Myoozik

Grow your music collection or find some new tunes to groove from Blackbyrd Myoozik's impressive collection of vinyl records and CD's.
